

- A final review of the project movie and its role in outreach efforts.
- The survey report, ensuring all findings were effectively communicated.
- Last checks on all project deliverables, ensuring alignment with the project's goals.

After a farewell lunch at the school, the meeting officially concluded, marking the successful completion of TPM6 and the SAVLAR project's final phase.

Conclusion

TPM6 served as the final milestone in the SAVLAR project, allowing the partners to complete all major deliverables, including the survey report and project movie. The combination of structured work sessions, filming activities, and cultural experiences reinforced the strong collaboration among the partners.

With the project now reaching its conclusion, the final steps involve ensuring that all materials are effectively disseminated and that the SAVLAR project leaves a lasting impact on XR education across Europe.
